EDIT

Level 49: Pink Stairwell

Level 49 is a stairwell descending infinitely upwards and downwards. The stairwell is a few metres wide and the walls are coloured a pale pink. Each corner possesses a small square platform before ascending to the next one via a flight of stairs. The stairs are covered with grey tactile strips and their frame is composed of black painted metal. A set of handrails are at the sides of each set of stairs, and railings are present to prevent people from falling off the edge. Lights are present at regular intervals to illuminate the stairwell. If one encounters danger above or below them, it is advised to discretely turn around and walk the other way whilst sticking to the sides of the stairs to avoid visual detection.
